SODA WATER AT FLOOD IN HONOLULU ON SUNDAY

Sunday is the day of soda water in Honolulu's Chinese quarter. The saloons are closed and thirsty mortals must take the milder elixirs which assuage, but do not inebriate. Consequently, to meet this demand there are over a hundred soda water bars which are open only on Sunday. They are invariably equipped with a refrigerator, a couple of cases of ginger pop, pink ameliorators and brown restorers, an ice shaver and a cash register.

Between Hongkong and San Francisco Honolulu boasts of being your only true Sunday temperance town. Its closing law is no dead letter and those who desire alcoholic stimulant must buy meals therewith.

Hence the institution of the soda water saloon. Merely a makeshift, according to certain ardent lovers of liquor, the Chinese and Japanese have made a virtue of necessity and so elaborated their bars that now many thousands of bottles of carbonated drinks are consumed by a dry and thirsty population.

A walk through the quarter yesterday showed by actual count a hundred such temperance bars, each presided over by a cheerful dispenser, each patronized by choice souls who smacked their lips over vanilla soda and talked lustily as if its austere liquor had in truth the fire of the stronger waters sold on week days.

"The sale of soda water on Sunday," said one merchant, "is trebled over that of the week. You see there are very few places where a man can get a drink on Sunday. Further, many Japanese and Chinese do not feel like paying the sum demanded, say, for a glass of beer. So Saturday night they buy their Sam Shue, Sambin or sake by the bottle, go uproariously to bed and awake to frequent the soda water shop. Many a customer of mine will spend 25 cents here in an afternoon. And when he has had his five drinks he doesn't make a noise like a police alarm."

Observation showed the general truth of the shopkeeper's remarks. Every other door showed a well frequented bar and from each came those quiet sounds which denote peaceable discussion. Indeed, so many are these places and so popular that the deserted streets give no indication at all of the number of passengers abroad.

Just what the drinkers think of soda water as a beverage is hard to gather. They take it solemnly, without jest, much as one goes to work. There are no "prosits," no words of greeting. Over 10,000 glasses there are no Japanese substitutes for

I sometimes wonder what the vintners buy. One-half so precious as the stuff they sell.

Of course occasionally one can find a place where gin and sake are sold on Sunday. But they are rare and their custom is but a drop in the vast bucket which satisfies Honolulu's Sabbath thirst.

One day in seven we are imbibers of chemical compounds, tipplers of sarsaparilla, consumers of pop. Probably no other city in the world can show such sales of carbonated waters—nor a people so thirsty afterwards.

INDICATIONS OF RHEUMATISM.

Sore and swollen joints, sharp, shooting pains, torturing muscles, no rest, no sleep—that means rheumatism. It is a stubborn disease to fight, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm has conquered it thousands of times. One application gives relief. Sold by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Agents for Hawaii.

OLD TESTAMENT VENGEANCE.

A dear little girl of four, who has received a highly religious training, shocked her family the other day by resorting to Old Testament ideals of vengeance.

It was at the table that the little girl became very naughty and indulged in a number of exaggerated statements, which had very much the sound of fibs. Her grandmother, who believes devoutly in a personal Deity, reproved her. "Some one hears, you telling those naughty stories," said the grandmother. "Who is it that hears you when you tell naughty stories, do you know?"

"Oh, yes," instantly responded the little girl, rolling her eyes to heaven. "I know, God, come down and smash this old lady."

It is needless to say that grandma was properly subdued for some time.

GOOD PROMOTION WRITING THIS IS

Dr. S. E. Bishop, as "Kamehameha" in the Washington Star, adds the following good promotion writing to a description of Kilauea's activity:

"The spectacle is always terrific to the new-comer, and to those accustomed, extremely impressive, especially in the night, when the fires seem excessively brilliant. Occasionally a visitor can not tear himself from the fascinating sight until it has paled in the morning's dawn."

"I wish to earnestly exhort all Pacific tourists to include Kilauea in their scheme of travel. It is absolutely the most brilliantly impressive spectacle accessible on the face of this globe. Niagara, Yellowstone, Yosemite, Victoria Falls, bear no comparison to Kilauea's glory and terror. And withal it is entirely safe and harmless, while you travel thither and lodge there in all comfort. Steamers, railway, and easy staging for ten miles carry you safe to an excellent hotel on the brink of the great crater. Thence good horses convey you safely down and across the black lava two miles to the inner pit, where the splendor bursts on the view. For eighty years white men have frequented this crater, and no casualty has ever occurred through all its varying and occasionally violent conditions."

MAUI COUNTY FINANCES.

The News has on several occasions remarked that Maui county would hold her own and make the best showing. The report of the county treasurer for the period ending August 31st gives a balance in the local bank to the credit of the county of $1471.55 from the general fund and $3624.87 from the road tax special deposit, making a sum total of $5096.42. Other counties have made the request of the Territory that their monthly allowance from funds due them be increased. This Maui county has not been forced to do, having more than sufficient funds to carry on the affairs of the county and still have a snug little account in the bank.—Maui News.
